

BEEFO BINGO KIT

INSTRUCTIONS

- 1. Cut the pink card into squares, put into a zip-loc bag.
- 2. Locate markers, such as mini-marshmallows.
- 3. Read the introduction enclosed to the group.
- 4. Make sure each child has a colored bingo card and a handful of "markers". Remind them not to eat their markers.
- 5. Announce what type of bingo is required, ie 5 in a row, 4-corners or black-out. (Black-out takes longer, and can be used to finalize the play time.)
- 6. You be the caller, making sure to put your pink markers on the white Master copy, so that you can check any "questionable" bingos!
- 7. Give some type of reward for a bingo. Arrange a grab-bag of Beef By-Product prizes suitable for your age group. Suggestions are:

a small box of crayons	a pack of chewing gum
a glue stick	a pack of red licorice
a pack of fruity chews	a decorative soap figurine
a small pack of band-aids	a chapstick

For the final game, "black-out" we suggest a nicer prize, such as:
a "Paint by number" set,
a "Jello- Jigglers mold set or a decorative candle.
Use your imagination!

8. To conclude the lesson, say "Children, can we go through one day without the products that come from beef."
(Some will say they can, but remind them that even if they aren't diabetic, don't use make-up, or wear leather shoes, or play football or basketball, or use soap when they shower, or use band-aids when they get hurt, or use crayons or glue or paint....that we all need rubber tires to get to school, unless we walk!)
9. "Now, you can eat your markers!" It is not wise to collect the markers and use them again, as they will get handled several times during the game session.
10. "I am passing out a brochure called "WOW THAT COW"! You can take this home and share what you have learned today with your family. If they have questions, they can help you read the brochure."

If you enjoyed playing this game, would like to order an additional kit (free) or more "Wow That Cow" brochures (also free), or have a suggestion to make the kit better, please contact the
